THE LARGEST PUMPKIN IN LOS ANGELES COUNTY ARRIVES AT CITADEL OUTLETS
OCTOBER 1-31

LOS ANGELES, Calif. (September 22, 2020) – For the first time ever, Citadel Outlets will transform itself into a must-visit Halloween destination for families and kids with the arrival of the largest pumpkin in Los Angeles County – “Big Jack.”

Throughout October, L.A.’s premier outlet shopping center will host Big Jack, a colorful steel installation standing more than 16 feet tall, spanning 15 feet in diameter and weighing 1,500 pounds. The larger-than-life Big Jack will be surrounded by a spooktacular display with black fencing, intertwined with fall foliage, oversized sunflowers, pumpkins and candies growing on trees and more than 40 hay bales. Guests and families are invited to dress in their favorite Halloween costumes and visit the themed Halloween garden to commemorate the season with a family photo.

For guests looking for more Halloween fun, they can take part in the month-long “Let’s Track Jack & His Friends” scavenger hunt. Using a self-guided map and character stickers given out at Customer Service, participants who find all 12 characters on display throughout the shopping center and label them correctly on the map will receive a special treat.

"We are excited to welcome Big Jack and his friends to Citadel Outlets this October," said Samara De La O, Senior Director of Marketing at Citadel Outlets. "Families will have a delightful time immersing themselves in Big Jack's Halloween garden and we hope it will bring everyone lots of smiles. It's the perfect setting for families to take memorable photos and have some fun in social-distance style this Halloween season."
